

You need protection. So does your family.

That's where we come in.

You rely on protection to get you through each day. Your family, in turn, relies on you. New York Life and Cigna would like to help. Together, we created the Brave of Heart Fund to offer financial support for families of frontline health care workers and health care volunteers who lose their lives to COVID-19.

The Brave of Heart Fund is dedicated to supporting those you love.

The fund honors the efforts and sacrifices of health care workers during the pandemic by offering charitable financial assistance to eligible family members for common needs such as housing, food, transportation, education and medical care. Eligible health care workers include doctors, nurses, technicians, orderlies, cafeteria workers, custodians, volunteers, and others on the front lines.
